[Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.] New York, February 28.—The Courrier des Etats Unis republishes from La France, of the 7th instant, an affidavit of Charles J Hubbell, formerly shipping clerk of E. Remington & Son, which shows conclusively that the sale of arms was made knowingly to the French government. He testified to numerous manipulations of Remington's books. The accounts were kept in an orbooks. The accounts were kept in an or-dinary cheap book, but after the receipt of telegrams from Remington in France, the book-keeper was ordered to re-copy the books in order to open accounts for persons who were to figure as principals, while in the actual operations they appear as agents. The names of these agents were not in the first set of books, but appeared in the second set as selling arms to Remington at advanced prices on vouchers. The names of the agents were signed by other employes, and certified to by Samuel Remington. A sale of one hundred and ninety sets of harness was inserted in the books in the same manner, and the cost of freight was enor-mously added to.

[Special to the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

WASHINGTON, February 28 .- There was a revival of the interest in the debate in the Senate on the proposed investigation into the sale of arms to France by the speech of Mr. Sumner to-day, which was delivered to a full Senate and crowded galleries. Mr. Sumner very sensibly turned the channel of the debate from the general political character which it has assumed for a week past to the real merits of the proposed investigation, and delivered an argument in its support, and a reply to the invendos that he had been in league with a French spy that elicited warm approval from every quarter. A statement published here this evening to the effect that it might be safely assumed from correspondence, as it had progressed with Earl Granville, that the treaty of Wash ington would prove a failure, and that both parties would inevitably withdraw from it, reated some astonishment. It turns out or inquiry, however, that the correspondence in the side of this Government is so incom plete, as yet, that no one is in position to say whether our reply will be followed by the withdrawal of the British arbitrator or not. Of course, the Administration predict that there will be an amicable settlement. The reply will probably be made on Saturday.

Executions Among the Jews. The Hebrews had no executioner. When a man was guilty of homicide, the execution devolved on the next of kin, by the right of blood revenge; in other cases criminals were stoned by the people, the witnesses setting the example; and when the chief ordered a person to be put to death, the office was performed by the person to whom the command was given; and this was generally a person whose consideration in life bore some proportion to that of the person slain. Thus Solomon gave the commission to kill Joab, the commander-in-chief, to Benaiah, a person of so much distiction as to be himself immediately promoted to the command which the death of Joab left vacant. In fact, the office of a regular executioner is not by any means dishonorable in the East. The post of chief executioner is in most oriental courts one of bonor and distinction. Thus, when there was no regular executioner. it came to be a post of honor to put a distinguished person to death; and on the in proportion to the rank of the person by distinctive in the narrative where the own hand than that of a youth who had obtained no personal distinction. As to the hero commissioning his own son to perform this office, it was partly to honor him with the distinction of baving slain two chief enemies of Israel, as well as because the rules of those who had slain his own brethren should either be performed by himself or by a memper of his own family. It seems very proba ble from all that transpired, that Oreb and Zeeb had slain the brethren of Gideon after they had taken them captive, in the same way that they were themselves slain. A Small Hold Better than None.

The St. Louis Democrat in its well directed efforts to bring a combination of office-hold-ing and editing into disrepute, frequently ites the example of Postmaster Holloway of Indianapolis as editor of the Indianapolis As the Fishback of the Democrat is a brother of the Fishback of the Journal. he ought to understand "family matters" well enough to know that Postmaster Holloway has no more to do in conducting the Indianapolis Journal than he has in dictating the course of the St. Louis Democrat. Wednesday,

THE Journal's idea of manifesting ability seems to be to abuse everybody. It has a good word for no one and bad ones for everybody. It is fast becoming recog- chimney pots, and turbid eddies circling nized as a common scold and is losing its influence just as fast.

THE proposed amendment to the constitution, incorporating a recognition of God or Jesus Christ in that instrument, meets with little favor. Even among the clergy its opponents are many, and the belief that a people ought to recognize God in their lives rather than in the constitution of their government is general.

WE thought Mr. Greeley could not go on long in this thing of opposing Grant and advocating peculiar notions without coming to grief. The Indianapolis Commercial opens its batteries upon him this morning and after its terrible scathing Mr. G. may be regarded as effectually squelched. He certainly will not have the impudence to persist in living now.

CHEAP fuel is only one of the elements that enter into successful manufacturing. If that was the only one the place to locate all manufactures would be at the moath of a coal mine. It is an important element but not always the most important. For instance, take the case of one large establishment here. Its fuel now costs about a thousand dollars a year. If the coal road is built and fuel furnished at ten cents per bushel, it will reduce that amount not more than three hundred dollars. But the firm would have to pay six hundred dollars in extra taxes, to say nothing of more if the road should not the thanksgiving for? Was the great pay its running expenses. There would English people too happy to contain itnot be much profit in that transaction.

We know of no better way for a man of means to make money than by erecting a number of small houses and selling them upon easy terms to men of moderate income. The demand for such houses is very great and promises to be far greater, and hundreds of men would buy such houses if they were required to pay down only a small amount and the balance in death of any other man of his age would monthly installments. There would be have been as directly and deeply felt on o risk in such an investment and a good profit might be made, besides conferring a lasting benefit upon the city. Hundreds of men pay out for rent in a few years what would buy them a house if some one would lend them assistance. The more the working men, the bone and sinew of the city, own their houses in a city, the stronger that city will be and the more prosperous.

BISHOP FOLEY, of Chicago, delivered a lecture last night in which he anathematized all modern literature. Scarcely a book or paper was published in this country, he said, that did not contain a fling at religion, and as for the daily papers not one of them was a friend to the Catholic religion. The Bishop did not say what remedy he would like to have used, but we presume the suppression of all newspapers and the destruction of all printing presses would be about the thing. Then, with the common schools overthrown, it would not take long to plunge the world into the ignorance of the middle ages, when the Catholic Church was the supreme power and ruled the bodies and souls of men. With such a condition of things Bishop Foley would be a very great man, and his authority would be almost unlimited. For the sake of the Catholic Church, and for the sake of the Bishop, we are glad that things are as they are.

THE project that the city build a coal road alone and unaided does not square very well with the principle of political economy that some of its advocates have preached at different-times or professed to believe in. The demand for coal, they tell us, is not equal to the supply; if it help came. His strength was surely and were increased a hundred fold Illinois. which has little or no timber, would still be willing to pay a better price than could be obtained in this market. If these facts are true, and they are among the arguments advanced for building the road, how long will it be before Illinois would get the coal? We might protect it here for a few years, although that is doubtful, but sooner or later the business will find its level and be governed by the laws that govern all business. The man who pays the best price will get the article. But saw log chased a Frenchman." some one may say we only want cheap coal for a few years "until we can induce manufacturers to settle here; when they have got established here, invested their money and added to the population and business, then we don't care whether coal is cheap or not. We will have them and they can't leave." If anybody thinks good hyperbases men—and no man can conduct a hyperbase weekly News now ranks forgmost among the cheapest and best newspapers in the West. A Sublime Sham.

The jubilee in honor of the recovery from a dangerous illness of a young gentleman of meager intellect, indifferent character and something less than exemplary life and temper, day before yesterday, in the "right little, tight littleisland" east of Ireland was an event worthy of more than a passing notice. It was the grandest humbug, the most gigantic sham, ever attempted. In numbers, in personal wealth, in magnificence of decoration, in every feature that presents to the eye the Is a handsome eight column folio, published every expression of unequalled opulence and unsparing liberality, it has probably never been surpassed. The finest triumph of a Roman consul must have been a poor display, with all its pomp of spoils and wreaths and ecstatic multitudes, beside such a cataclysm as that which filled the streets of London and swelled up and over the tops of the houses, with foam of laces and feathers flowing about the in all the lanes between Hackney and Somers Town.

Four millions of people formed or saw the procession, we are told. It is doubtful if, after due allowance for Oriental exaggeration, even Aurungzebe ever gathered such a host to witness or such wealth to decorate any occasion of his despotic pride. The crowd that poured out to welcome Charles the Second could not have been much larger if it had contained every inhabitant of the island. The reception of the French army of the Crimea in Paris, was less magnificent though a far more creditable display. The return of the Prussians to Berlin was an occasion of less splendor, however nobler in purpose and feeling. We really believe it has never been equalled anywhere, in any age. And yet no demonstration was ever made on less provocation. If Carlyle had not lost his horror of shame when he lost his power of intelligible expression and honest perception, we might look for his deepest growl at this most monstrous piece of

Was England thanking God or Albert Edward? We doubt if a man in the whole seven hours' procession ever thought whether his ceremonious outlay of cash and sweat was directed to the Deity or the moon-faced boy in the carriage in front. But whichever of the two the demonstration was devised for, what was self, and burst out of the privacy of decorous worship in a tempest of coaches, livery and soldiers, because a very worthless young fellow had got well, when his death would have made no difference either in the government, society or business of the country, and but little even in his family? Japanese Grog. Shops.

The grog-shops of Japan are neither more nor less than tea-shops. All along the public roads, at frequent distances, are planted pleasant tea-houses. They "tea," according to a correspondent, when they must stop by the wayside, and in such little bits of cups that one could drink the contents of twenty of them, and then want more. Pretty tea-girls stand by the entrance, and (their teeth not yet blackened) with pretty ways and courtesies are so fascinating that tea without either milk or sugar becomes agreeable. On pretty laquered waiters the tea-girls hand you little tiny cups, with a mouthful in them, and you squat down on nice clean mats, if squat you can, and you sip, and sip, and sip this mouthful of hot tea as if the gods' nectar was going down your throat in infinities and drops of microscopic invisibility. The keeper of a Japan tea-house picks out as pretty a place for the tea-house as he or she can. The keeper coyets, if possible, a view of and the air of the Bay of Yeddo, along which the most of the way here runs the Tocaido. The grand tea-house is cut up into numerous little rooms, with paper partitions between to part them, running on slides, but all removable at will, to restore the whole to one grand room. Cakes sweetmeats, and candies are brought in with the tea, all put on the clean matted floor (there are no seats), and all squat or stretch out on that floor.

Chased by a Saw Log.

A Pittsfield paper tells the following: "Did you ever hear of being chased by a saw log; as it chanced to a French Canadian out in Curtis's woods last week? It happened thuswise. They were cutting the timber from the brow of a hill in these famous woods, and rolling it to the bottom where a steam saw mill is to be erected. The Frenchman was attempting to manipulate a huge log for a safe descent, when he discovered it was getting the better of him. He was on the under side, and it would not do to "let it slide," so he screamed for help. But no rapidly failing, and there was nothing to do but run for it, and run he did; a fearful The natural philosophers say that a log gains in rapidity as it descends. otherwise with human legs on a run, even when as in this case the descent is steep and icy. A DESERTED CITY.

A Phase of Our Western Civilization-A Nevada Mining Town-Not One Inhahitant Left.

From the Gold Hill, Nevada, News. Our readers all remember the great Excelior or Meadow Lake excitement of some half a dozen years ago, when ambitious bag and baggage over the Henness Pass route, among the tall pines, tamaracks and perpetand two hurdy houses, all in the space of six the fishes, seldom making a miss weeks. Gold Hill and Virginia were both plentifully represented, not only in the town but throughout the District. Everybody made plenty of locations, and nobody felt sure of his fortune unless he had "feet" in Excelsior, where the ledges were all We know how it was ourself, for we saw the with, and subsequent assessments kept us present status of things "way over in Excel- when the laggards immediately

Meadow Lake City, which was once called Summit City, boasted in the days gone by, of a population of 3,000 or 4,000 souls. In it day of prosperity it had fine stores, good ho tels, theaters, saloons in number, and an Ex change at which mining stocks were sold. Meadow Lake City was a second Virginia City, and attempted to revive the good days of Washoe, the flush times of the Comstock lead. In 1865, we think it was, some persons found gold-bearing rock in some ledges near Meadow Lake, and these being assayed and the assays being talked about, the city of Summit or Meadow Lake was born. It sprung up, like Jonah's gourd, in a night, and it has withered. In the excitement which followed the discovery of quartz specimens around Meadow Lake, fine houses were erected, and business promised to be brisk. The treasures "by mill process," and people be mule, on the farm of a Mr. Dougherty, of the rock where mechanism had failed

The ores were rebellious, it is said, and the ordinary appliances of stamps and quicksilver would not save the gold of those rich ledges. Chemistry would find a way to get the richness out of the rock. "Old people saw signs and young people dreamed dreams' in efforts to save that gold. The Burns process was invented in a dream to save gold, and for a time Meadow Lake city continued to hold its own in the hope of the success of the Burns dream. It failed, and the doubters began to intimate that the gold was not in the rock, and the assayers were wrong or Mills, chemicals, had been imposed upon. Mills, chemicals, and even dreams failed to make mining there a success. Science, mechanics and the black art had each failed in its turn to turn the rock into gold. So the city went down and is now deserted. A few days ago A few days ago a friend of ours visited Meadow Lake city. He went up on snow shoes and took a look at the deserted and snow covered place. The houses, which were only one story in hight, were covered to their roof with snow. The two-story houses were surrounded with snow to the second story. Not a living being was seen by him. He was monarch of that snowy desolation. Signs swung in the cold wind, and just grazed in their swinging the surface of the Prominent among the signs was that of a broker's office, just opposite the old hall of the Board of Brokers. The large hotel there was yet furnished, and beds and bedding remained there. Our friend standing in his snow shoes gazed into the hotel stood on the snow surface, level with the second story, and he saw clean linen on the deserted beds. He wanted to take a rest in the comfortable looking quarters, but there was no fuel or food in sight, and he had to go down lower to a ditch-tender's cabin to get fire and appease his hunger. Many of the houses have this winter been broken down by the weight of snow on their roofs, but any more remain just as they were when their owner left. The property deserted is safe, as cold and snow have locked all against Parties in Boston have recently bought the depredation of burglars. Meadow Lake is a winter residence no more.

A Look at Senator Tipton.

Tipton is a remarkable Senator. He is 58 years old, and has led a quiet, indefatigable, clerical and ministerial life, and he presents one of the few cases in the history of the country where a government clerk has risen to distinction in the higher legislative body. of water would run daily, without pumping, He was, many years ago, while an Ohio boy while Boston uses fifteen millions. His term of service in the Senate will not expire until the spring Recently a terrific sand-storm prevailed of 1875, so that he is a fixture there, and the country will have opportunity to hear a good deal of him. He never speaks long; but when there is a rumor over the capitol that Tipton is up, immediately the galleries fill. Tipton's humor is subordinate and subservient to his boldness. His strong indignation readily aroused in cases of injustice, causes a rapid flow of words, and some of his ser tences are cut as squarely and clearly as if written by a stencil. The aggressions of the administration upon Congress make the burden of his outbreaks, and many of his points are extremely well taken. How apt, for instance, was his description of Morton and others when they remonstrated against the revival of the retrenchment committee, as he said: "These persons, now affecting surprise, had appeared for years to have no visible means of support, except sending for per-sons and papers." Tipton is a rather thin, spare man, with a large round forehead, which supports spikes of black hair; and he wears spectacles. He used to be considered rather a humble, clerical sort of man, until he got into the opposition, when he at once demonstrated confidence, coolness, power of trol the most dangerous classes of houses of thrust; and he may be fairly said to share with Trumbull, Schurz, Summer and Logan, the power of the non-administration side.— "Gath" in Chicago Tribune.

The Millinery Market and Spring Fash

The New York flower and millinery jobbers chose Washington's birthday as the time at which they might safely expose their selections to public view, and from this time forward buyers, by a walk through the various stores, can take a bird's eye view of the novelties in making up their season's stock. Some very tasteful French bonnets are in the market at high prices, with high crowns also, Leghorn hats with high crowns and coronets. Paris bonnets are marked at $15 to $25, and Leghorn bats at $10 to $15. Plain braid straw seems to be the favorite. A pro fusion of flowers is certain to form a part of the fashions for the summer of 1872 in both bonnets and hats, but the course which the public taste may follow is more uncertain. Meantime there is every probability that large sprays will be the article wanted in this manufacture. Importers are provided fully with clusters of every shade and hue, includ ing many novelties in Insect life and other genuities. Flowers this season will asked for long and trailing. Trailing vines have sold well to jobbers already, and flowers in autumn tints. The Nelson colors seem to predominate, and the old "Marionette" colors worn during her period. Also the crape "Annillais," a novelty, is being offered to the trade. A rustic hat, formed from va-rious portions of the palmetto leaf of Florida, has been utilized to form a stylish and taking effect. The flowers are formed from the reedy portions of the leaf, and when trimmed with the additions of natural grasses the whole has a uniform and tasteful appearance. Price, $7 to $10, according to quality. In ribbons the trade continues as usual, with a preference for wide widths.

Amusement Hatters. ACADEMY OF Music. From some uner claimed cause, the benefit to the Academy of Music orchestra last evening was not such a success as the friends of the musicians hoped would follow the enterprise, or should have been accorded it. The programme was attractive, and in the main well rendered. The music of the Philharmonics was sweet as evet, while the performances of the Indianapolis Turnverein, under the direction of Prof. Louis Neubacher, and the two faires by the dramatic company were highly satisfactory, and should have been witnessed by a crowded house.

To-night Lotta makes her first appearance for a long time in the "Little Desective." The Louisville Courier-Journal of a day ortwo since, has the following concerning Lotta's recent appearance there:

The sprightly little favorite, Lotta, made er coquettish bow to a Louisville audience at the opera house last night, for the first time in a long while—at least it seemed very long to her admirers. She made a decided hit, and from the beginning to the end of the piece was liberally applauded. The play was the Little Detective in which the charming spirte assumed half a dozen characters, proving a complete success in each, changing her appearance, voice and manner with Pro-tean dexterity. She was frequently encored, out not oftener than she deserved to be ugh she hardly let her voice out in so as to be heard with sufficient distinctive ness on the back seats. The parts of Messrs. Morton, Mortimer and Ketchum, and of Misses Hawthorn and Mayer, were well sustained, and Miss Lotta may congratulate herself that she was so ably supported.

A Little Romance from Celerado The Greeley, Colorado, Tribune, of February 14, says: About thirty years ago a young man was betrothed to a girl in England, but subsequently the engagement was broken. He afterwards married another woman, had children, lost his wife, and came to Greeley, On Monday morning an old man with a staff was at the depot on the arrival of the train from the Fast. An old lady, Miss Dean, stepped from the cars add inquired for Thomas McDowd. The old man knew him, and would be happy to carry her baggage to Mr. that McDowd was expecting her, and she was sure she would know him, for he was an old acquaintance. On arriving at the house, the old man asked if she was certain that she would recognize her friend. "Of course I "Well, Marie, I am the one you are would." seeking." Just then Justice Childs came in, and the lovers were married after thirty years of waiting. Be Economical.

Look most to your spending. No matter make great waste. Hair by hair, heads ge bold; straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop the rain comes in the chamber. A barrel is soon empty, if the tap leaks but a drop a minute. When you mean to save, begin with your mouth; many thieves pass down the red lane. The ale jug is a great waste. In all other things keep within compass. Never stretch your legs farther than the blankets will reach, or you will soon be cold. In clothes, choose suitable and lasting stuff, and not tawdry fineries. To be warm is the main thing; never mind the looks. A fool may make money, but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board, there is nothing left for the savings bank. Fare hard and work hard while you are young, and you will have a chance to rest when you are old.—[Coal and Iron Record.

A few of the many reasons with the Chisens of Indianapolis and vicinity should patronize the Spencer House Ticket Office:

1st Because it is the only Ticket Office in the City of Indianapolis where the traveller can be furnished with any information in regard to the Shortest, Best and Guickest Routes from Indianapolis to all points, North, South, East and West.

2d. It is the only Entired Ticket Office where you can be furnished with correct Time Cards of all the Railroad's centering here, showing distances, time of arrival and leaving, and connections of all trains running into the Union Depot.

32. It is the only Office in the city where you can get Tickets at Reduced Rates to all points, where competition is officied by rival lines.

4th. It is the only Office where any inducement is officed to Emigration, either in Tickets or Freights; the only place where any inducement is officed to Emigration, either in Tickets or Freights; the only place where Finigration is made a specialty.

5th. It is the only office where any inducement is officed to Emigration, either in Tickets or Freights; the only place where Funigration is made a specialty.

6th. The only place where you can get Tickets at all hours, or have them delivered to your house, office, or place of business, at all times, free of charge.

These are but a few of the many reasons that can be adduced why the citizens of Indianapolis and vicinity should support an outside or city office; and as we have undertaken this new enterprise in the face of the combined influences of the saveral Railroads centering here and the Union Depot Ticket Office, we can but simply beg the patronage of the travelling public, assuring you that the truthfulness of these suggestions can be seen upon investigation. CANCER-PLANT. This Plant is a never-failing cure for all Blood, Scrofulous, Cancerous and Syphilitie diseases.

It thoroughly neutralizes the specific virus in the blood, which causes the affection. Therefore, it manently cures all forms of Scaly, Scurvy, Blistery, Pimples, Ulcerative and fiery cutaneous Erupos as—permanently cures all forms of Scary, Scurvy, Busiery, Thinker, Scarcers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pusteles, Tetter, Fever-sores, Secondary Syphilis, Ringworm, Ezzema, Erysip-Cancers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pusteles, Tetter, Fever-sores, Secondary Syphilis, Ringworm, Ezzema, Erysip-Cancers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pusteles, Piscolorations, Copper-colored Blotches, Grandular Swellings, Worms and Black Specks in the Flesh, Discolorations, or marks in the Skin, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth and Nose, Sore Legs, and sores of every conceivable character.

The Plant is the deadly enemy of Mercury, Lead and Arsenic—quickly eliminating them from the human system, and relieving the pains and aches attendant upon Mercurial and Syphilitic poisoning.

From a familiar knowledge of the composition of every Blood Medicine ever placed before the people, we warrant our Comp. Fluid Extract of Cancer-Plant, to be the most powerful Alterative ever originated by man.

In truth, it seems that God, in his infinite wisdom, has designed this Herb above all others, for the curof that vast list of malidies arising from impurity of the blood.

We have given the CANCER-PLANT to poor creatures who had suffered for years with the most frightful forms of Scrofula, Cancer and Syphilis, and within a few days the hideous sores have healed, the cancerous masses have withered away, and the skin had assumed a healthful appearance. THE CITY.

An attorney of this city recently received

This is the last day of winter, but not of the winter weather.

THE Superior Court has adjourned until the March term, Monday, March 4.

THE School Board will meet this week on Saturday night instead of Friday night.

WILLIAM S. HUBBARD was to-day appointed guardian of Horace T. Miller, minor. Bond, $10,000. TRAINS on the Pan Handle and Blooming-morning. Owners of property in the northeastern part of the city are chuckling over the prospect of "a rise." THE Indiana School Journal, now managed it has ever been. MR. FRED. BISNER, travelling agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, is in the city to-day. THE trial of Harvey, the horse-car driver, for cruelty to his animal, was contined until to-morrow morning. Over one million dollars' worth of real estate titles have been filed for record in the Charles A. Ray, who goes over to examine Recorder's office during this month. TRE ancient inhabitant who prophesied there would be twenty-seven snow storms this winter, got tired of counting them some time ago.

HUMPHREY C. GRIFFITH was to-day appointed guardian of Flora H., Eva J., Dora and Cora Griffith, minors, filing a bond in the penal sum of $24,000.

The News is indebted to Prof. Cox for advance sheets of his forthcoming report, which we will notice at length as soon as it can be carefully examined.

Dr. R. T. Brown has resigned the chair of Professor of Chemistry in the Indiana Medical College, his duties as Chemist of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington demanding all his time.

It is impossible to drive two miles out of this city in any direction without meeting the obstruction of a toll gate. Can not the County Commissioners adopt some policy to rid us of these inflictions.

MESSES, J. A. DYNES & Co. have issued a neat directory of public buildings, newspapers, hotels, places of amusement, etc., to be be hung in the hotels. To strangers it will be valuable for reference.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued to the following parties since noon yestrday: John L. Manship and Irena Hoss. Abram Morgan and Mary E. Dobyns. Elijah Hedges and Jennie Conklin. William Wolf and Louisa Pearson.

The Sixth Ward School Affray. The difficulty in the Sixth Ward school yesterday, between a pupil and teacher, has been exaggerated a little. The boy was not required to remove his coat, as whipping of such severity is not in accordance with the views of the Superintendent and School Board. The matter will be fully investigated by the Board and a decision given at an early date.

The Myers case drags slowly along. The evidence of the defense this forenoon was dimurdered man, for the supposed purpose of self-defense. The evidence will probably be all in by noon to-morrow, when the argument will follow, and the case be given to Another Railroad Consolidation. A deed of consolidation between the Vincennes & Cairo Railroad Company in the State of Indiana, and the Cairo & Vincennes Railroad Company in the State of Illinois, extending the latter road from the line of Indiana to the terminus of the Indianapolis & Vincennes Railroad at Vincennes, was filed with the Secretary of State to-day. The name of the new road is to be the Cairo & Vincennes Railroad, with a capital stock of $4,000,000. The consolidation is a virtual sale of the Vincennes & Cairo Road to the Cairo & Vincennes, of all its rights, franchises, stock, etc., the road to be completed by the latter company.

Commencement of the Medical College. The programme of the Commencement exercises of the Indiana Medical College, to be held at Masonic Hall to-night, is as follows: Invocation, by Rev. J. H. Bayliss, Valedictory, by Professor L. D. Waterman, Presentation of Diplomas, by Professor G W. Mears, M. D.

Students' Valedictory, by C. H. Kirkhoof.

Address, by Rev. Cyrus Nutt, LL. D. The trouble will be begun at half-past even, and the public is invited to attend.

The following are the names of the graduates-twenty-six in number. The size of the class is of itself a gratifying evidence of the prosperity of the College: James A. Pinson, L. Prater, H. E. Davenport, W. A. McCov, Ananias Cullins, Henry Petrey, W. V. Mc Mahon, A. A. Hamilton, T. J. Smith, W. H. Scramling, Alph Tome, James H. Ford, S. A. Troy, W. W. Wilt, C. H. Kirkoof, H. A. Castle, R. W. Cavins, James M. Ely, J. A. Osborn, James McKee, G. B. Smith, T. Hunt, J. B. Lasley, J. F. Parks, J. K. Julien, A. D.

The Last of the Scientific Lectures.

Masonic Hall was again comfortably filled last evening, in attendance upon the last lec ture of the scientific course, by Prof. Winchell. The lecture, "Glimpses Into the Fu ture" was charaterized by the same grace eloquence and grandeur observable the evening before, when the construction of worlds was the theme. Nothing pertinent seemed to have escaped the gigantic grasp of the lec turer's mind. Having built up piece by piece, a noble structure the evening before never missing a brace or making a mistake, he last evening tore it down just as symetrically, and flung the material back into its primeval elements. Two more perfect lectures have seldom, if ever, been delivered in Indianapolis.

And thus closes the first course of lectures its inception has been a gratifying success. It is understood that the receipts have been customers. equal to expenses, so that no embarrassment will follow. The success of this course has been such as to warrant the Academy in promising a more extended one next season.

Fashionable Wedding.

A large and select company was that assembled at the First Presbyterian Church last night to witness the marriage of Mr. Richard D. Duncan to Miss Maria E. Sharpe, daughter of Captain E. P. Howe and grand daughter of James M. Ray, Esq. The ceremony took place at nine o'clock, and was performed by Rev. J. P. E. Kumler. The couple were attended by six gentlemen ushton roads were an hour behind time this ers. Mr. Frank H. Duncan and Mrs. U. J Hammond, Mr. R. W. Geiger and Miss Maggie Montfort, Mr. John G. Blake and Miss Lillie Latham, Mr. A. W. Ritzinger and Miss Alice Moore.

The bride was dressed in white gros grain silk, trimmed with ruchings of the same by Prof. W. A. Bell, is more prosperous than with veil and wreath. "Mrs. Hammond wore a lemon-colored tarlatan, Miss Montfort blue tarlatan, Miss Latham green tarlatan, and street. Miss Moore pink tarlatan.

After the ceremony a reception was given at Captain Howe's residence, on North Pennsylvania street. At three o'clock this evening Mr. and Mrs. Duncan left for New York, where they sail on Saturday by the Cunard line for Ireland, where the honeymoon will be passed. They were accompanied by Hon. the title of an estate to which Mr. Duncan has a claim.

State Temperance Convention.

A number of gentlemen assembled this forenoon at Good Templar's Hall, and organized themselves into a convention, for the purpose of nominating a State ticket to be supported by the temperance element of the State at the approaching election.

The meeting was called to order by J. T. Boyd, of this city. J. W. Smith was chosen temporary secretary. A Committee on Permanent Organization was appointed, which, after consultation, reported the following officers of the Conven-

President, J. T. Boyd, Marion county. Vice President, J. B. Fuson, Morgan coun-

Secretary, J. W. Smith, Marion county. The report was adopted and the officers entered upon their duty.

The following Committee on Platform was appointed: S. L. Morrow, Clark Hadley, J. S. Garrigus,

S. H. Lang, and J. B. Knott. After this appointment the convention adjourned until this afternoon. It is understood that the abolition of the offices of State Printer and State Agent will be one of the planks of the platform. A final adjournment will probably be made at the close of the afternoon session.

The English Would Copy Us.

[London Letter to Cincinnati Commercial.] Notwithstanding the large number of inelligent young men-such as Edward Dicey Charles Dilke, W. F. Rae and Thomas Hughes—who have visited Angerica and written well about it, it still remains true that a just comprehension of the United States is one of the rarest things to meet with in any class of English society. Amer ica has the misfortune to be more of a cause than a country in Europe, and particularly n England, the logical outcome of whose in stitutions are embodied across the Atlantic in a form whose general outlines appeal to every Englishman. And because our friends accept us uncritically, our foes hate us blindly. If England were to become a Republic, it would copy the American Republic exactly, flaws and all, just as the Chinese workman manufactured the new dinner set offer the model of the old set sent him. after the model of the old set sent him-preserving even the cracks and breakages whi had made a new set desirable. The two houses of Congress, the President, with reeligibility for a second term-all would be copied whether the experience of America has shown them to be desirable or not. And it is a singular thing that no man of sufficient philosophical ability has been able to at once see the fundamental superiority of the American Republic, while critically examining the more minute errors which the working ef its institutions have shown able to rise to important proportions.

Evening

FOR .1872.

THE EVENING NEWS, now in its third year, has been one of the most successful journals ever established in this country. Its circulation is now probably the largest of any daily paper in the State, while the number of its readers in the city is larger than those of all the other dailies put together. It has attained this popularity and influence by enterprise and fair dealing. The first cheap paper established in the West, it has constantly taken the lead, and it has constantly labored for the benefit of Indianapolis and the State of Indiana. During the present year, which promises to be one of the most interesting in the history of the country, and one of the greatest importance to our city, it will endeavor to discuss all the public questions with ability and fairness. It will always strive to advance the best interests of Indianapolis, working both early and late, in season and out of season. THE EVENING NEWS is not a partisan paper, neither is it a neutral one. It is independent, bound to no clique or party, receiving no public patronage, and is always free to speak its real sentiments, to counsel for the good of the people. It has endeavored to do its whole duty in the past, nor will it be found lacking in the future.

With an able corps of assistants and the best facilities for procuring news, the Editor is prepared to promise that it shall be wanting in none of the interesting features that have characterized it since its establishment. During the coming year various improvements will be made from time to time as circumstances justify, and we shall in all respects endeavor to make good the promise, that THE EVENING NEWS shall be the best as it is the cheapest paper in the State.
